Cameron Agerston from Frederick Douglass High School wins 2022 CTE Counseling and Career Development Professional Award by the Maryland Career and Technical Administrators chapter of the Association for Career and Technical Education (ACTE).

Agerston is the Professional School Counselor for the Pathways in Technology Early College High School (P-TECH) at Frederick Douglass High School in Prince George's County Public Schools. Upon receiving his master's in School Counseling, Cameron began to serve in his role as the first Pathways in Technology Early College High School in the state of Maryland, a Career & Technical Education specialty program focused on Health Information Management and Hospitality Services Management. As a professional school counselor, Cameron used his previous experience to advocate for equitable outcomes for students participating in and facilitating meetings with faculty, Career and Technical Education staff, and key stakeholders. Serving as a technology liaison and college and career counselor, Cameron hosts college and career workshops and trips for students to enhance their exploration and understanding of career opportunities.
